Welcome to Hawke’s Bay

‘Te Matau a Māui’

From Māhia in the north to Porangahau in the south, Hawke’s Bay’s 360 kilometres of coastline and beaches hug the Pacific Ocean. This is a region of diverse and magnificent landscapes, from mountains and hill country to inland and coastal plains, occupying around 14,000 square kilometres on the eastern side of New Zealand’s North Island.

Blessed with fertile soils and a warm temperate climate, Hawke’s Bay’s prosperity is founded on its land-based economy. With thousands of acres of farms, orchards, and vineyards, Hawke’s Bay is considered an agricultural powerhouse that cultivates New Zealand’s finest produce. Embracing this land of plenty, the region has emerged as one of the country’s most desirable culinary destinations, headed by an enviable stable of leading winemakers, chefs and purveyors.

The forces of nature that gifted Hawke’s Bay its most notable landmarks, including Lake Waikaremoana, Te Mata Peak, and Cape Kidnappers, have also wreaked havoc to reshape and define the region we know today. Most infamous is the Hawke’s Bay Earthquake of 1931, an event that dramatically changed the cityscapes of Napier and Hastings and gifted the region its now-iconic Art Deco architecture.

With sparkling beaches, easy-riding cycle trails, and a seemingly-endless array of walks, golf courses and visitor attractions, Hawke’s Bay is the ideal destination for a relaxed escape to savour the region’s bounty.

Hawke’s Bay is rich in Māori culture and mythology, none more so than in the formation of the region’s defining coastline. Māui, the most famous of the Māori gods, hauled up the North Island with a hook made from the jawbone of his grandmother. Māui’s hook was instantly transformed into the cape that forms the southernmost tip of Hawke Bay – otherwise known as Cape Kidnappers. Viewed from above, you can still see its hooked shape, which is why Hawke’s Bay is sometimes referred to as ‘Te Matau a Māui’ – The Fishhook of Māui.

Northern Routes:
The Thermal Explorer Highway takes you down the centre of the North Island and through the historic geothermal areas of Waitomo, Rotorua, and Lake Taupō.

You can take the road less travelled along the Pacific Coast Highway towards Coromandel, Tauranga and Whakatane, around East Cape and down through Gisborne and Wairoa. This is one of the great campervan journeys and is highly recommended for anyone wanting to experience some of New Zealand’s stunning and remote coastal areas.

Southern Routes:
Driving to Hawke’s Bay from Wellington, either take SH1 up the Kapiti Coast and head inland at Levin, or head to the Hutt Valley, over the Rimutaka Hill and through the Wairarapa district. With the first dustings of snow on the ranges, life outside simply carries on indoors. There are deals to be had at luxury lodges and boutique hotels for an intimate escape or a weekend rendezvous. AUTUMN

Autumn is a photographer’s dream. The landscape is a blaze as deciduous leaves turn gold, red, yellow and brown and there’s no better way to witness the magic than an early morning or late afternoon hike along the tree-lined trails leading to the summit of Te Mata Peak. For a getaway with a difference, the Hawke’s Bay International Marathon affords participants a runway of Hawke’s Bay’s beauty, concluding with a winery finish line.

SPRING

Spring is made for walking. Temperatures are on the rise, and the visible signs of nature waking up are on show everywhere with bursts of blossoms, flushes of daffodils, and asparagus shoots making their seasonal appearance. Squadrons of male gannets have ensconced themselves in their headland sanctuaries at Cape Kidnappers, and Central Hawke’s Bay is bustling and vibrant with the celebrations of the Spring Fling, while the Spring Racing Carnival is showcasing high fashion with a friendly punt at the Hawke’s Bay Racecourse.

Napier is home to many fine wineries, restaurants, bars and cafes. The boutique shops are a must-visit for shoppers, and don’t miss the magnificent murals painted on more than 50 walls around the city. Grab a Seawalls map from the iSITE and walk or ride the city to see them up close.

Marine Parade serves as a scenic and popular bridge between the city and the Pacific Ocean. Packed with family friendly activities, the kids will be entertained for hours exploring the Pump Track, the National Aquarium of New Zealand, Par2Mini Golf, Ocean Spa and BaySkate. Napier’s iconic Norfolk Pines, the Deco Soundshell, the Tom Parker Fountain and statue depicting Pania of the Reef are a visual reminder of the city’s past.

A self-contained, residential suburb with its own village hub, Taradale is also home to Mission Estate and Church Road, two of New Zealand’s oldest wine producers. The Mission Concert is a local institution that has been bringing international live music acts to Taradale since 1993. You’ll find Ōtātara Pā Historic Reserve five minutes from the township, a site rich in Māori history with stunning views of Napier through to Cape Kidnappers.

Five minutes by car from the CBD, or an easy fifteen on the cycle trail, the historic fishing village of Ahuriri is a seaside settlement with its own unique marine vibe and a growing number of cafes, bars, restaurants, galleries, and boutique stores. For a winery experience with a difference, visit The Urban Winery, housed in the iconic National Tobacco Building.

Westshore is a great spot for a seaside escape with plenty of places to stay. It’s within easy walking distance of Westshore Beach, which is a great spot to stop for fish and chips and enjoy the sunset. The Ahuriri Estuary can be accessed via a boardwalk, allowing close-up viewing of wading birds and mud dwellers. Westshore is on the Hawke’s Bay Trails so you can nip along the trails towards Ahuriri for a bite to eat or head north towards Bay View for some scenic cycling along the coastline. Bay View has campgrounds, cafes and plenty of fruit stalls overflowing with year-round fruit. Five minutes’ drive further along the coast will lead you to Esk Valley, home to wineries, vineyards and craft breweries.

Each of the 18 pou represent an important Māori ancestor from the Heretaunga district.

The recent revitalisation of a number of city precincts has seen the emergence of bustling inner-city restaurants, cafes and bars, all of which hero the produce and artisan goods that the region is famous for.

Pick up a copy of the Hawke’s Bay Wine and Food map and create your own wine path, each winery is only a short distance from each other so perfect for an afternoon on your bike.
Wairoa & Northern Hawke’s Bay

Wairoa (Māori for long water) is the largest town in northern Hawke’s Bay, and is the gateway for memorable adventures across its spectacular and often untouched landscapes, including the vast Te Urewera.

Experience some of Wairoa’s rich heritage by walking the 5-kilometre river walkway, passing sites of historical significance which share the stories of Māori and European settlement. The walk starts at the historic Portland Island Lighthouse – in service between 1878 and the mid-1950s, before it was moved to town in 1961 – and finishes at Pilot Hill.

Wairoa District is a gateway to an extensive array of water sports and activities, including sublime fishing, highly prized surfing and diving spots, along with water skiing, jet boating and rowing.

Forty minutes north of Wairoa on SH2 is Morere Hot Springs, a collection of mineral hot pools set within the last remaining tracts of native rainforest on the East Coast.

Wairoa is a community that prides itself on its hospitality and ability to ‘manaaki’ (to care for and protect).

It’s a place where hospitality and manaaki are woven into the fabric of their community culture, and it’s a place where many manuhiri (visitors) become whanau (family).

The people of Wairoa also welcome their visitors to embrace the virtues of manaaki to guard, protect and preserve their backyard.

As part of this vision, the town’s tourism information hub the Wairoa i-SITE is driving its vision to get “back to the basics”: manaaki tangata, manaaki whenua, manaaki awa and manaaki moana (protecting the people, the land and the waterways).
Lake Waikaremoana covers an area of 54 square kilometres in Te Urerewa, and lies at the heart of the historical home of Ngai Tuhoe. Lake Waikaremoana roughly translates to the 'sea of rippling waters' and is renowned for its breath-taking beauty. The area is a holiday destination for people who use the lake for fishing, tramping and other recreational activities. The lakefront Holiday Park surely boasts some of the most stunning views of any campsite in the country.

The Lake Waikaremoana Track, one of New Zealand's Great Walks, is a three- to four-day tramp which follows approximately half of the lake's circumference. There are huts along the walk which you need to book to stay in. Camping is permitted unless you are more than 500 metres from the track. The Great Walk can be accessed from SH38 at Onepoto or at Hopuruahine Landing.

Māhia Peninsula is a long-time summer holiday retreat and a magnet for fishers, divers and surfers. It is one of New Zealand's most reliable surfing destinations so there's always a wave on somewhere. Fishermen love it because they can launch boats on either side of the peninsula, providing access to outstanding fishing and diving in almost any weather. The peninsula has pristine sandy beaches and offers a 3.5 kilometre walking track through one of the last remaining lowland coastal forests on the East Coast. It's a great spot to rent a holiday home or camp at the local holiday park.

Māhia is also home to Rocket Lab Launch Complex 1, the first orbital launch site in New Zealand.

For a tasty bite to eat, try East End Café or Oslers for the best pies in town.

For more information: Wairoa i-SITE Visitor Centre is located on the corner of SH2 and Queen Street, Wairoa. Open daily, hours vary.
Central Hawke’s Bay

Central Hawke’s Bay runs from Pukehou and Otane in the north to Takapau in the south.

Affectionately known as ‘hidden Hawke’s Bay’, it is a little less hustle and bustle than its northern neighbours. The district is well known for its majestic historic homesteads and gardens, charming historic villages, boutique shopping, cafes, wineries and stunning natural landscapes.

Waipukurau is the hub of Central Hawke’s Bay, and a perfect base to start day trips with accommodation, cafes and main street shopping. The Tuki Tuki Trail is a popular drawcard with 12km of limestone tracks for cycling and walking, as well as excellent mountain biking trails and an impressive 100m-long swing bridge crossing the Tuki Tuki River.

Waipawa is just 5 minutes’ drive north of Waipukurau and has its own quirky charm. There are a number of boutique shops, antiques and collectibles, an art gallery and cafés. The Central Hawke’s Bay Settlers’ Museum offers a nostalgic glimpse into the area’s past and hosts regular exhibitions.

Over on State Highway 50, the small historic village of Ongaonga is like stepping back in time, with a well-preserved collection of original historic buildings, museum and historic Coles’ Brothers building to explore.

Just ten minutes south of Waipukurau, Backpaddock Lakes is a stunning lakeside venue with a purpose-built cable wakeboarding park and outdoor events venue. The main lake is ideal for boating, waterskiing, kayaking, paddle boarding or just lounging in the sun with friends.

The Ruahine Ranges sits on the western side and is home to some excellent walking and tramping tracks, including a must-do walk to Sunrise Hut. To the east you’ll find six unique beaches, each offering a different experience from swimming, diving, fishing or a relaxing stay with a seaside view.

The spectacular Te Angiangi Marine Reserve, a whopping 138ha reef running from Blackhead Beach to Aramoana is a fantastic protected coastal area to explore rock pools, swim, dive, fish and snorkel along the coast.

Our Māori Heritage

Hawke’s Bay is known to Māori as Te Matau-a-Māui / The Hook of Māui, in reference to the early navigator Māui, who bestowed the first placenames to the region over 1000 years ago. Following Māui was successive migration from Polynesia to Aotearoa and intermarriage with the people of the land.

Today the iwi tribes that inhabit Te Matau-a-Māui are Ngāti Rongomaiwahine of Māhia and Ngāti Kahungunu united through the marriage of the eponymous ancestors Kahungunu and Rongomaiwahine in the late 1400s. Their descendants now number over 60,000 and are a united confederation of hapū sub-tribes that extend from Wairoa to the Wairarapa.

By the 1830s Europeans were emigrating to Aotearoa in large numbers, and on arriving to the Māhia Peninsula found a people in exile, escaping inter-tribal warfare exacerbated with the introduction of the musket. With the introduction of Christianity and European security, chiefs began the process of establishing peace and repatriation of their lands across Te Matau-a-Māui.

Returning to their ancestral lands, certain chiefs signed the Treaty of Waitangi and adopted European practices, dress and language. Chiefs were quick to commence farming, food production and building of European style villages.

Mythical legends play an important role in the transmission of oral histories in Māori culture. One of the most famous is the story of the iconic ‘sleeping giant’, known as Te Mata, who died in the pursuit of love when trying to bite his way through the hills separating tribes in the coast and the plains. The outline of his prostrate body forms the skyline when looking towards Te Mata Peak from the Heretaunga plains.

At Bistronomy, we’re firm believers in making everyday eating a little bit extraordinary. We’re one part local, one part global, and one part special sauce, infusing fresh Hawke’s Bay produce with far-flung ideas to create dishes which will often surprise and always delight. Our menu changes with the seasons, inspired by the abundance and variety of edible offerings from soil & sea. We’re less about fine dining and more about fun dining, and like to make food you can share, food you can talk about, food you’ll want more of, and food you’ll come back for. Café Tennyson & Bistro
Napier
Back in 2004, new owners Julien and Sophie Debord fell in love with New Zealand. "It was our dream to return here one day to open a 'kiwi style' cafe with a touch of French flair" so, that is exactly what they did! Café Tennyson + Bistro has just undergone a major refurbishment. It is a modern Art Deco masterpiece, designed to not only enhance the beautiful city of Napier but also to promote a welcoming and efficient service for all its guests. At the daytime café and evening bistro, there is focus on producing delicious homemade meals using fresh, locally sourced, seasonal and delicious ingredients. Their experienced baristas are also proud to serve the Wellington roasted, People’s Coffee, which is both fair trade and organic. Café Opening hours: 7am – 7pm (7 days)

Black Barn Vineyards & Bistro

We are a boutique vineyard just five minutes from the Village of Havelock North in Hawke's Bay Wine Country. Our focus is on premium European styled red varieties such as Merlot, Syrah and Cabernet Franc. Our award winning whites include Chardonnay, Viognier and Sauvignon Blanc. All our wines are Estate Grown and the fruit is hand selected. With just over 25 acres many of our wines are available only through the cellar door, bistro and our website.

Our elevated north facing site on the lower slopes of the Te Mata hills is not only an excellent location for grape growing it also provides us with stunning views, a warm sheltered micro-climate and a perfect situation for the visitor to spend an hour or two, a night or two or even a week or two. You can taste our wines, enjoy lunch or dinner at our award winning Bistro, a Summer Saturday morning at the Grower's Market, stock your pantry from the Kitchen Store, an evening at a concert in the amphitheatre or all of the above by staying in one of our sixteen luxury properties. From an eight bedroom luxury retreat to a two bedroom turn of the century cottage in the heart of the vineyard, for a truly unique holiday experience, these properties are recognised as amongst the very best available in New Zealand.
